Onthe nift of last Month, if Negrota, who said they be-inged. Son Philip (Commander of a Spanish Privateer), but Psupper as to be the Property of the Persons in Pennsilva-ia, came into Surveyent, last, the Timell Row-Beat, having with them one Sheep alive; they had no Arms but an old broken Scythe, fix'd into a wccoen Handle. A Sloop, with two Men on board, lying in the same Place, the Negroes immediately boarded her; wherevon one of the two (who was in the Cabin), hearing a Noise, came upon Dack, and affect what they wanted? They afked him if he was at artiful he answered. No: On which, without further Quettions, they splir his Head in two Places with the Scythe, and having otherwife mangled him, tumbled him headlong into the Hold, where i.e presently after expired: The other Man, who was picking a Fowl in the Forecastle, came then up to the Negroca, and asked what was the Matter? They answer'd him in good English, that if he was not easy, they would serve him the same Sauce; and having wounded him in the Cheek with the Scytle, they took Possession of the Sloop, and set Sail; but running aground, and not able to get her off, they rifled her, changed Boats, and left her: The next Morning the wounded Man, who was still on board with his dead Companion, made a Signal, and was foon assisted by People who came off from the Shore; and having related the Difaster which had befallen him and his Companion, the High Sheriff of Worcester County immediately raiied the Posse, and closely pursued the Negroes, who after a very narrow Escape, got over into Virginia; but timely Notice of the Affair having been dispatch'd thither, they were as diligently pursued. Between Senipuxent and Chingoteague, the faid Negroes took 2 North Carolina Veffel, bound to Philadelphia, laden with Potatoes; and having plundered her let her go. Entering into Chingoteegue, they took a Sloop belonging to Capt. Taylor, with his only Son, and three of his Negroes, on board, all whom they feiz'd, and took Possession of the Vessel. During their Ponession of this Sloop, they boarded a New England Vessel, and took two Hands out of her: But the Wind being Eastwardiy, they could not get out, 'til the Weather became more calm; when the Pyrate Negroes proposed going out to Sea: One of the New-England Men, and a Negro of Capt. Taylor's, seemingly approved of the Design; and representing to the five Negroes that they were in want of a good Quantity of fresh Water for such an Enterprize, themselves were deputed to go on shore in the Boat and setch it. Being got safe ashore, they alarmed the Country; and some Periaugers were quickly maun'd, and furnish'd with Arms and Ammunition, and soon came up with the Pirates; who seem'd determined to make a desperate Defence: But their Ammunition being spent, and one of their Companions being that through the Cheek they all five threw themselves over board, endeavouring to escape by swimming; but three of them were taken up by the Periaugers, and another, tho' he gain'd the Shore, was foon overtaken and secured; what became of the one wounded is uncertain, tho it is generally believ'd he was drowned. The four which were taken are now in Acouack Goal, in Virginia, in order to take their Tryals for the faid Mu er and Pyracies.

Entered, Sloop Virgin, Stephen Hicks from Rhode Island; Schooner Isle of Sables Galley, John Colloin, from Boston; Schooner two Brothers, Joseph Homan, from Boston; Schooner Mary, Nicholas Woodbury, from Boston; Sloop Batchellor, William Rose, from Virginia.
